

City trip Bern: clocks, bears and Einstein

Ready for a different kind of city trip? Bern, the capital of Switzerland, is a city of contrasts. What surprised me when I mentioned I was going to Bern, is that a lot of people nowadays don't know it's actually the capital of Switzerland. Most of them think it is Zürich or Geneva. Nope. Work on your geography people!

I do understand where that's coming from, as Bern is quite small for earning the name of a capital, but it's part of its charm. If you're up for some activity and loads of cheese...

Apart from the luxe hotels, Bern has not much to offer in the likes of a design or boutique hotel. One that could be categorized as such is the Hotel Restaurant Goldener Schlüssel Bern www.goldener-schluessel.ch.

A cosy city hotel just a stone's throw away of the famous Zytglogge (Clock Tower).
